THE DANCE OF THE COOKS.

ANNUAL JOLLIFICATION OF THE SOCIETE CULINAIRE PHILANTHROPIQUE.

The French cooks and their friends danced at the Madison Square Garden last night and this morning till it was time to get breakfast. The affair, which usually goes by the simple title of "the French Cooks" Ball," was officially known as the thirty-third annual ball of the Seclete Culinaire Philanthropique.

were displayed in the afternoon, and also while the ball was in progress. They were for the eye, not for the palate. A few of them looked as if they might tasts extremely good, but more looked as if they would defy diseation, and some as if they would defy a pickaxe. One of these was a representation of the battle of San Juan Hill. There was no knowing what it was made of, and it may have been delicious, but it looked as if it were modelled in plaster and painted. The war has clearly had its effect, even on cookery, for there was also a model of the New-York, one of a battleship of the Oregon class and a magnificent salmon a la Manila. Bosides these there were cooked fish little lakes in the grounds of sugar castles-bouquets candy, and numerous artistic triumphs that looked

A FORDHAM WIDOW TRIES SUICIDE.

PHOUGHT AT FIRST TO HAVE BEEN SHOT BY ANOTHER,

Mrs. Sarah Tefft, widow of David Tefft, who was a son of Whitman Tefft, for many years a well-known resident of Fordham, shot herself in the breast soon after miduight yesterday, at her home in Fordham. She was taken to the Fordham Hospital, where she now lies in a critical condition. Her chance to recover is fair. When she was received at the hospital she told conflicting stories about herself. At first she said that some one ock upon the case with suspicion, and resulted in the arrest of Oliver Meyer, a brother-in-law of Mrs Tefft, who lives at No. 206 Arlington-ave., Jersey City Heights. He was arraigned before Magistrate Pool, in the Morrisaula Court, who said that there was nothing suspicious about the case and discharged him.

In the afternoon Corener Cowen took the antemortem statement of Mrs. Tefft. To the Coronet she said that she had shot horself in a fit of despondency. Meyer received a telephone messag hate Monday night which read: "You'd better go up to Fordham. You'll find some one dead there." The name signed to the message was not familiar him, and he wondered what it meant

With Mrs. C. B. Wilson, the mother of Mrs. Tefft, and Mrs. Wilson's other daughters, he went to the home of Mrs. Tefft. They forced an entrance, and in Mrs. Tefft's bedroom they found her lying on the floor, bleeding from the builet wound in her breast. She was conscious.

It is said that Mrs. Tefft acted queerly several days ago. At that time a man called at her house with a note for her. The rote was from another man, who wrote that he had received $3.90 and wanted $500 more, and that there would be trouble if he did not set the desired amount. Just what the writer of the note meant was not made public. Mrs. Tefft became excited on receiving the message, and it is said that she ran wildly about the house with a revolver, shooting at mirrors and other things. Dr. Balcom, who lives at Highbridge and Kingsbridge roads, was called, and quileted her. According to a story told yesterday Mrs. Tefft and her husband squandered $100.000 in high living. The money was inherited by Mr. Tefft from his father.
